

OCTOBER, 2006

DOING WHAT WE LOVE

REACHING EVERY PERSON, EVERYWHERE, EVERY DAY, ALL THE TIME

DOING WHAT WE LOVE TO DO

PRAYER REQUESTS

- Praise God for Operations Leadership Connection in Budapest where 80 leaders focused on leadership development.
- Pray that movements will be developed and sustained as we combine all the strengths and resources available within the organization.
- Pray for us as we meet with ministry partners to share more about the opportunities we have before us.

DID YOU KNOW...

- that Campus Crusade for Christ staff maintain over 600 websites in almost 30 languages?
- that you can search these 600 websites by visiting <http://search.ccci.org/>?
- that over 150 communities of purpose have been formed in our Global ConneXion community tool over the past several months? (Visit <http://mygcx.org/AboutCommunities> to learn more.)

September found Kay and I spending 3 weeks helping lead 8 conferences developing leaders from around the world. Building into others is one of our greatest privileges.

When I was a student at Texas A&M University, Frank came by my dorm room one afternoon and shared how I could know God personally. Frank was a fellow student who loved to tell others about Jesus. I had already made the decision to accept Christ as a youngster through my parents and my church. Frank continued to meet with me and help me learn to grow as a Christian. During those months of growing as a disciple of Jesus Christ, I decided to invest my life helping others learn to walk in the power of the Holy Spirit every day, to live life abundantly, and to invest in the lives of others. When Kay and I married, we began to dream together of fulltime opportunities to disciple others and soon joined the staff of Campus Crusade for Christ.

For 30 years, we've had the privilege of helping build strong disciples and develop leaders.

continue on next page

Operations Leadership Connection in Budapest. Eighty staff with professional skills in accounting, technology, management, human resources, and communications from around the world learning more about leadership and building capacity.

MEETING WITH MINISTRY PARTNERS

During the next few weeks, Kay and I are doing another thing we love. We are meeting personally with many of you, our faithful partners. We can share more stories and answer your questions.

Kay and I continue to have the privilege of being your partners in this mission. Together, we are building leaders. Together we are building capacity for the Great Commission. We appreciate doing what we love with people like you.

Keith plans with Richard and others from East Asia

“touristy” opportunities (which we did thoroughly enjoy!), but rather the privilege of helping fulfill the Great Commission through growing our capacity to build and sustain movements of evangelism and discipleship in every location in the world.

Kay strategizes with Global Operations leaders

So spending 3 weeks in beautiful Budapest, Hungary with 80 leaders from around the world was awesome. We love doing this. The greatest part about our time in Budapest was not the

What does building discipleship infrastructure look like? It looks like Ray developing training curriculum in computer skills and teaching staff throughout the Middle East so their computers become tools to create and distribute evangelistic and discipleship materials.

It looks like Oumar setting up email accounts for staff throughout French-speaking Africa so they can hold email conversations with young people who are seeking Jesus. It looks like Russ and Mark developing a flash drive of software that will run on any computer so that staff who do not own a computer can take their “mobile office” into any internet café to easily communicate ministry ideas with one another. It looks like

Mark facilitates the team from Southeast Asia

Richard flying from Singapore to countries around the Pacific Rim helping them plan strategically and wisely.

Kay and I help develop these leaders who then multiply throughout their areas of the world. We love this! It’s not work, it’s a privilege.

SKYPE EFFECTIVE IN INTERNET EVANGELISM

S.D. came into my office very enthusiastically and told me “Oumar, I have a success story!” He told me how he had a ministry opportunity with a man using SKYPE (computer to computer communication). S. D. told the man that he and his wife worked with Campus Pour Christ. The man replied that it was hard for him to work with his wife at the office and that it was better that she remain at home. As the conversation progressed, S. D. discovered that his friend was actually divorced. S.D. agreed to keep everything confidential and continued by presenting the Gospel to the man while on-line. The man broke down in tears, which S.D. could see through his Web camera, and he led his friend in a prayer to receive Jesus as his Savior and Lord!

NOTE: Oumar is the technology leader for French-speaking Africa. He is a leader in using internet technologies for evangelism and discipleship throughout Africa.

A visionary, Oumar leads technology in French-speaking Africa